TWO CENTS

SCHEME TO DEFRAUD QUICKLY NIPPED BY BANK OFFICIALS

Two Pittsburgh Men Arrested when They Attempt to Carry Out Plan

WERE USING SUBSCRIPTION LIST

A very clever scheme to defraud business men and banks of Charleroi was nipped in the bud Wednesday afternoon, when R. H. Rush, cashier of the First National Bank, spotted one of the conspirators as he tried to collect a fee from the bank.

The man had a subscription list in his possession, which had been signed by the banks and a number of business men, and the schemers were endeavoring to collect the sum of $15.00 from each one of the subscribers. In exchange for the money the subscribers were to be given a receipt from the "Benevolent and Protective Association of Railroad Men," of which one of the prisoners, Arthur H. Vaughan, is a general organizer.

When payment on the request was refused by W. G. Mollenauer, after submitting the receipt to Mr. Rush, the would-be collector left the bank, but left behind the subscription list, which he had evidently forgotten in his hurry to get away. In addition, Mr. Rush had called up the Trust Company to ask them concerning the matter, and Walton Sharpnack went to the First National to look over the list. As he was examining the paper the collector returned and asked for the paper, which was refused. He then made a quick grab and took the paper from Mr. Sharpnack's hands and ran out of the bank. Mr. Rush followed and the man speeding up McKean avenue, turned into Fourth street, where he was met by Officers Welsh and Thomas, who immediately placed him under arrest. They believed there was something wrong and soon their impressions were confirmed by citizens who had been in pursuit of the prisoner. They started back to the bank with their man, when his companion, who was driving a Ford car, bearing license number 452-779, came to the corner of McKean and Fourth. The prisoner motioned for him to go on up street, but the police being tipped off, patrolman Thomas went to the machine and placed the driver under arrest.

The auto and prisoners were taken in charge by the two officers. The men returned to the bank for identification, while the car was stopped at the corner opposite the bank and searched. In it was found a pass book from the Real Estate Savings and Trust company of Allegheny of Pittsburgh and made out to John F. McCarthy. It showed a balance of $356.80 on the Third of May, with a number of deposits since that date, the last one being May 25.

The subscription list which the collector had grabbed from Mr. Sharpnack in the bank was picked up a few minutes later on the street and returned to Mr. Rush. The man evidently having tried to dispose of it. The two men, McCarthy and Vaughan, were placed in the lockup, pending charges to be made by the bank officials.

The subscription list, bank officials declare, was evidently secured from the original owners, the heading cut off and the conspirators were using it to collect an additional fee. Papers and books taken from their person showed a large number of receipts made out for the sum of $15.00, to the above "Benevolent and Protective Association of Railroad Men," and if the conspirators had been successful they would have signed them as they collected the money. The list was originally solicited on the 18th of March by representatives of the National Labor Journal, bank officials say, which is published by the Iron City Trade Journals Company. The subscriptions were for advertisements which are to appear in the Labor Day issue of the above publication. This list was quite a long one, and McCarthy and Vaughan had evidently made out receipts for all names thereon, from which they had hoped to realize a very handsome sum. Their scheme, sharp as it was, however, was happily frustrated by Mr. Rush and other officials of the bank, who are continually on their guard against any sharp practice to secure valuables from their institution.

The Ford driven by the men was regularly licensed by the State Highway Department, the license being made out in favor of John F. McCarthy and Arthur H. Vaughan, who gave their address as 712 E. Diamond N. S., Pittsburgh.

The incident caused considerable excitement on McKean avenue and in the vicinity of the bank, and a large number of citizens gathered to ascertain the cause of the commotion. All expressed pleasure at the prompt manner in which the conspirators had been defeated in their purpose, and voiced their opinion as to what should be done under the circumstances.

THIEVES ROB A CLOTHING STORE

The clothing store of David Cohen of Monongahela, was entered by burglars some time Tuesday night and between $500 and $600 worth of goods taken. Entrance was effected by means of the rear cellar door to the basement, and by way of a trap door to the store above. The thieves took three suit cases and several traveling bags into which they evidently packed a lot of goods, the best in the house, and after adding about 25 pairs of shoes made their getaway.

The job is similar in character to the robberies of the McGregor and Cohen clothing stores in the same city, by means of which their stocks were depleted to the extent of several hundred dollars. No clue to the burglary was left for the police and it is believed the thieves have made a safe retreat.

Program Completed for Memorial Day Exercises

At the meeting of the Memorial Day Committee held last evening in the Municipal Building, final arrangements were made for Memorial Day Exercises to be held in Charleroi.

The Executive and Decorating Committee report that all preliminary arrangements have been made. Honorable Henry W. Temple, Congressman from this District, who will be the speaker of the day, has assured the Committee that he will be here Memorial morning. He will be the principal speaker at Memorial exercises held in Monongahela on Monday afternoon.

Aviator Burke has promised to drop flowers from his aeroplane during the exercises and has offered his services to carry Congressman Temple from Charleroi to Monongahela. The following program has been adopted:

The parade will be led by the Police, followed by the Marshal of the Parade, Edwin W. Patton, and then the Council, School Board and Board of Health of Charleroi and North Charleroi. Following these will be the ministers of the churches. Boy Scouts, the Band, the Ex-service men and women, the G. A. R. and the school children.

The parade will leave the Municipal Building at 10:00 o'clock, proceeding to Second street, thence to Washington avenue, down Washington avenue to Tenth street, thence to McKean avenue, and up McKean avenue to the Honor Roll, where the exercises will be held. The ex-service men and women will assemble on the station driveway and the citizens and friends will gather on Fifth street and McKean avenue.

The following program is arranged for the exercises at the Honor Roll: Song, America. Invocation, Rev. R. J. Shields. Introductory Address, Dr. H. J. Reppman, Chairman of the Executive Committee.

Address of the Day, Hon. Henry W. Temple. Song, By the School Children. Memorial Exercises, conducted by the Marshal, Edwin W. Patton.

Benediction, Rev. Father Samuel A. Welsh.

Music, Star Spangled Banner, By the Band.

Raising of the Flag.

The Committee has been assured that there will be a large turnout of the former service men and if Monday is a clear day a large crowd is anticipated.

HOTEL WALFRED PROPERTY PURCHASED BY THE MALTAS

ANOTHER WOMAN RECEIVES APPOINTMENT

Mrs. Irene McIlvaine has been appointed a majority inspector of elections in the first precinct of North Strabane township, to fill a vacancy caused by the death of her husband, H. C. McIlvaine. The appointment of Mrs. McIlvaine means that another woman has been placed in public office in Washington county. Two women are now acting as registry assessors, a woman is a member of the board of directors of the county poor board, and Washington has a woman burress.

ACCUSED MEN ARE HELD FOR COURT

Before Justice of the Peace R. J. Whitehead, this morning, R. H. Rush made an information, charging Arthur H. Vaughan and Jas. F. McCarthy, who were arrested Wednesday afternoon while attempting to collect money at the First National Bank, with false pretense, conspiracy and attempt to defraud.

A hearing was given the accused at 9:30, at which time they entered a plea of "Not guilty." In defense, Vaughan, who apparently was the leader, said the subscription list had been given them by a former employee of the Benevolent and Protective Association of Railroad Men, and they had been told to go to the First National Bank in Charleroi, where a subscription awaited them. It was while attempting to make this collection that the trouble arose. Vaughan claimed their enterprise was legitimate, but the Justice could not see it that way, and the men were held for court in the sum of $1,000 bail for the August term, in default of which they will be taken to jail. They are attempting to arrange for bail, however.

Among the papers of Vaughan, and which are now at the police station, is a letter from the above association, authorizing the bearers to collect and solicit advertisements for the official magazine of the organization. The letter is not dated from any city or town, nor is the date of the month given.

According to the letter head, the officers of the E. & P. Association of Railroad Men are: James E. Fitzgerald, president; Nelson E. Bailey, vice president; James W. Reardon, secretary and treasurer; Maurice F. Kirby, secretary and clerk; Wm. J. Powers, Dennis Phalen and Thomas McNamara, grand board of directors.

At the hearing Vaughan did the talking, and said that if "anything was coming to them" to give it to him, as McCarthy was innocent of any attempted wrongdoing. He claims he will be able to establish his innocence if he is admitted to bail.

Frances Willard class will meet at the home of Mrs. R. Chessure of Lock No. 4 Friday evening May 27. Mrs. Sam Chessure and Mrs. Parks as hostesses. Please come prepared to sew. 300-tl-2 Saturday next.

Building will be Transformed and Used for Business and Residence Purposes

ANOTHER STORY TO BE ADDED

The Malta Building, located at Charleroi, representing Valley Echo Commandery, No. 379, Knights of Malta, on Wednesday afternoon closed a deal for the purchase of the Hotel Walfred property at the corner of McKean avenue and Third street and took immediate possession of the premises. Negotiations for the purchase of the property were conducted through the Bank of Charleroi, with Kerfoot W. Daly acting as trustee for the owners, and Guy Moffitt, Esq., President of the Building Association, acting for the purchasers. The property fronts 44 feet on McKean avenue and runs back 100 feet on Third street to an alley. On it is erected a three-story building, which has been used for a hotel ever since its erection, except the past two years, during which time it has been practically idle. The purchase price was approximately $35,000.

Workmen are already engaged in making alterations to the building, which will be devoted to business and apartments. The first floor, used formerly for the office, dining room, kitchen and bar, will be transformed into two storerooms, which will be occupied by a wholesale firm as soon as the changes are made.

The second and third floors will be changed into apartments, four on each floor, and the new owners expect to rent them as fast as they are completed.

It is also the expectation of the new owners to add an additional story to the building, which will be used exclusively for lodge purposes. Work on this additional work will be placed under way just as soon as necessary arrangements can be made, which it is expected will be within the next few weeks.

The change in ownership in this property will make quite a change in that vicinity, as it will restore to commercial activity a corner that has long been idle, and at the same time provided a number of families with living apartments. It is the purpose of the organization to retain their property on Fallowfield avenue, purchased a few years ago from the borough.

Appeal For Flowers

As Charleroi proposes to celebrate Memorial Day this year in a more elaborate manner than ever before in its history, it is necessary that our citizens be generous with their contribution of flowers, in order that the graves of those who died in service or of soldiers who have since been called to sleep with the silent majority may be properly and appropriately remembered. Those who will assist in this feature of the Memorial Day exercises are requested to leave contributions at the home of Miss Minnie B. Richardson, 401 Lincoln avenue, on Saturday next.

MUNICIPAL FLAG POLES PAINTED

The municipal flagpoles, one on top of the borough building, and the other at the corner of Fifth street and McKean avenue, were painted Wednesday forenoon, by Raymond Reese, of Wheeling, W. Va. Reese, in company with Phil McClellan, his partner, arrived in town Tuesday evening, and Wednesday morning secured the contract to paint the flagpoles. Reese does the "high spire" act, and had no difficulty in reaching the top of both poles. By means of a small rope, which makes a saddle for a stick of wood, Reese maintains his position on the pole, and with rapidity spreads the paint as he slowly descends. Both of these men follow this character of work exclusively, and say they make a good return for their efforts. In climbing poles Reese uses no artificial means, his hands and feet furnishing the motive power with which he makes the ascent.

Hill Top Athletic Club have completed the arrangements for their Smoker to be held at French Hall, corner Third street, Crest avenue, Thursday, May 26. Show will commence promptly at 8:30. Tickets now on sale at Paluso's Pool Room. Reserve seats 75 cents. General admission 50 cents. 300-tl-2

NON-SUIT ALLOWED IN ACCIDENT CASE

The defendant's motion for a non-suit was granted by the Washington county court in the suit of Susan Ehko of Charleroi, against the Pennsylvania Railroad company. The ruling of the court was that the plaintiff had failed to show negligence on the part of the railroad company.

Stephen Ehko was killed the night of August 15, 1919, as he was going to work at the plant of the Pittsburgh Plate Glass company. He was crossing the tracks as usual to reach the plant when he was run down and killed by a freight train.

SHOPPERS NUMEROUS HERE YESTERDAY

Strangers visiting Charleroi for the first time would certainly be compelled to view this town with optimism, if they were here yesterday. The favorable weather combined with the extraordinary bargains offered by one of Charleroi's leading stores, Fawcett's, in their May Clearance Sale brought out a number of shoppers, particularly ladies and Charleroi was a busy town with the Clearance Sale as the main topic of conversation. 300-tl-2

MALE TEACHERS FOR YOUTHS

Writing in "School Life," Joseph H. Wade, district superintendent of school, urges the employment of more male teachers in the final grades of the elementary schools, and is quoted as saying: "The influence of a man teacher, if he is the right kind of man, is far more potent in moulding character than the influence of any woman, no matter how efficient." A critic of this statement, who does not quote Mr. Wade fully, is doubtless altogether correct in saying that many men and most women will deny that so sweeping a statement is defensible, but whether Mr. Wade's view can be defended depends on what he said in full and just what he meant.

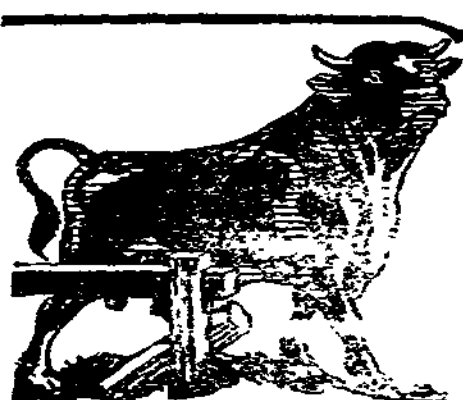

If he had reference to girl pupils, it is easy to decide that he was in error: if he was speaking of growing boys of ten or twelve years and over, there is much to be said in favor of his view. Little boys are safe in the hands of women teachers but boys nearing and in their teens need men, not merely to keep them under proper control, but to inspire them with masculine or manly ideals. Women teachers can efficiently instruct them in the sciences and exert a moral influence, but in their critical formative period they need contact with a masculine mind and the influence of a masculine personality. Sex is of the spirit as well as of the body. There are more effeminate youths and young men than there would be if in past years there had been more male teachers in the final grades of the elementary schools.

For some reason not explained the Denver Times sent an office boy to "cover" a performance of the Chicago Grand Opera Company in the local auditorium, and the youngster's diverting report read as follows: "They sung in Italian and made all kinds of noise that nobody could understand and in that way made people think they were singing. When the act was over all the people began applauding and I heard a woman say: 'Wonderful! I thought they were clapping because we were getting a rest.'"

After a brief stay in Chicago Carl Akeley, a big game hunter recently returned from equatorial Africa, says he wants to get back to the jungle as the safer as well as the more peaceful place. Presumably he would prefer to be chased by an elephant than to be run over by an automobile and to take the chances with a rhinoceros than with a gunman of "Chi."

Again Swiss army officers are lauding our American military establishment at Coblenz. It seems that in efficiency, training, military bearing and all the rest of it our officers and men are attracting wide attention in Europe and bringing military students from great distances to study the American methods.

A Soldier's Hope

Many poems, some of them seemingly inspired by the tragedy of events of the great war, were given to the world during the past few years. Among the many which seems to have struck a popular and sympathetic chord is the following from the pen of Henry H. Curry, "The Poor Doughboy" of the 80th Division A. E. F.:

In Flanders Field and Argonne's wooded slope
There stands God's symbol of eternal hope:

To mark each resting place of each
Martyred son.

No greater glory could be gained or won.

Than this replica of the master's cross.

And heavenly glory for the earthly loss.

In Flanders field where bright red poppies blow

Between these silent crosses row on row.

Living sermons to man's selfish
greed

Now the glory of death's leveling
creed

While bitter hearts that war has taught to weep.

Bathe these sacred tombs with tribute deep.

That I might live, not as a vassal slave.

Their all of joy in earthly life they gave

O, God, I pray that on some Argonne
slope,

When life is o'er I'll wear this cross
of hope.

As worthily achieved as buddies over
there,

This glorious replica, my hope, my prayer.

DOUGLAS PUPILS SEE CHAMPION TYPIST

George L. Hossfield, champion typist of the world, was at Douglass Business College this morning, and gave a demonstration for the benefit of the pupils. Mr. Hossfield preceded his demonstration with a short talk, in which he outlined many features which go toward making an accurate and expert typist. Then he gave a demonstration, in which he wrote 147 words in one minute without any errors. Later he showed how correcting mistakes took up time. He purposely made an error, and then corrected it, which required 10 seconds of time. He followed this by writing for ten seconds, in which he typed twenty-three words, thus showing the amount of loss in time and speed which an error causes. Mr. Hossfield gave other features in his demonstration, all of them very interesting to the students, who watched his exhibition with the keenest delight.

Mr. Hossfield won the title of champion at New York, October 25, 1920, when his record for one hour showed 8383 words gross, 51 errors, a penalty of 540 words, and a net total of 7843.

SUSPECTS ARRESTED FOR BANK ROBBERY

Among those arrested by a detachment of the state police near Searight's Monday evening last, were Perso Burchianti, of Lock No. 3, Allegheny county, and Peter Fefire, of Monongahela. The men were in an automobile, and upon making a search, six guns, blackjacks, and a quantity of ammunition were found in the machine. Burchianti owned the machine, and on Saturday last drew a fine in Monongahela for violation of the automobile laws. Fefire is not known by the Italians of Monongahela, but they are acquainted with a man named Zeffro, who lives at Gallatin. These men were suspected of being bandits who had robbed a bank in New Castle a few hours before. The men were taken to jail at Greensburg, where they are being held for identification.

COMPENSATION IS CLAIMED BY WIDOW

A fatal accident at the Donaldson crossing of the Pittsburgh Railways company near Allentown, on August 5, 1918, will be inquired into in three suits, that were taken up this morning before Judge James I. Brownson in court at Washington. The jury was called and sworn last evening. The plaintiff in each of the suits is Mrs. Anna McCallum and the Pittsburgh Railways company is the defendant. Mrs. McCallum claims compensation by reason of the death of her husband and two children, a son and daughter. On the above date her husband and other members of the family were driving in a Ford car. They were struck at this crossing. The father, Robert McCallum and his son Roy McCallum and daughter, Fessie McCallum, were killed.

A MEMORIAL SALE

An event that those who participate in will not forget for a long time. A real "Cheer-Up" Sale to arouse the majority of people, who seem to see nothing but Hard Times ahead.

We have painters and carpenters working on our store and warehouse buildings for sometime. Why, now, in hard times? Because they needed attention—and because it gives men work. If every firm in this town would show this spirit, people would forget about "Hard Times."

At housecleaning time most people find they need some new floor coverings, and at this time do not want to pay very much for them. We are showing a lot of 9 x 12 Mitered Print Brussels Rugs that we bought to sell at $24.50, as a special, but we are going to forget the cost price and sell them this sale only at $15.75

Our new manager who is an expert on Rugs wants the people of Charleroi to know that the store is now showing a stock of strictly up-to-date patterns in all grades and prices of Rugs, that you will find it hard to duplicate in most of Pittsburgh's stores.

Glance in our show windows—if you want to see what we think of "Hard Times." You can get $5.00 value for $1.00 if you need any article advertised therein. Let's all get busy. Business is like life—it's as you make it.

Sale of steel frame adjustable, heavy mesh wire, size 24x34 (Regular window size) Window Screens that retail at $1.25 everywhere. While they last at the low price of $5c (None delivered, none charged, supply limited).

Why
Chalmers knows
The NEW EDISON
gives his true voice

BECAUSE he has compared his voice with its RE-CREATION by the New Edison. Because thousands of people have heard this comparison. Because no one distinguished any difference between his living voice and his RE-CREATED voice.

Don't take the statement of an artist that a phonograph gives his true voice. See whether that phonograph can sustain the comparison test. If it can't, you know that such phonograph does not give you the artist's true voice, but merely a mechanical version of its own. Think about these things! Then remember that the New Edison does sustain the comparison test, that it is the only phonograph which sustains the comparison test; and that we are always glad to prove this to you.

If you love music, your credit is good here. You can arrange your payments on a gentleman's agreement.
